

H. Alan Watson, FACHE, serves as Chief Executive Officer of Maury Regional Health. He has more than 30 years of experience in the health care industry. Maury Regional Health is a rural health care system serving over 200,000 residents in Southern Middle Tennessee. Under his leadership Maury Regional Health has been recognized as an IBM/Watson Top 15 health system six times. Alan holds a bachelor's degree in nuclear medicine technology and master's degrees in health law and policy as well as community health administration. He holds membership on a number of boards and has served as chairman of the Tennessee Hospital Association and the Hospital Alliance of Tennessee.